

- 4 (LISTENING) Listen to the radio report. What do the teenagers think about buying fake products? Take notes.

Jenny

Lee

Carl

1 fake (product) [ˈfɜːk ˈprɒdʌkt] – gefälscht(es) Produkt

- 5 What else did Lee tell the reporter? Put the sentences into reported speech.

- I buy most of my clothes in department stores.
- I often go to Sneakers Street.
- The shops in Sneakers Street are the best.
- I have 25 pairs of sneakers at home.
- Most of my friends have even more sneakers.
- My best friend owns an extra cupboard for his sneakers.
- He keeps his favourite sneakers on a shelf over his bed.

Tip: Remember to put the verb in the past tense. For example, buy becomes bought.

You can start your sentences with these words:

say add claim explain tell

- Lee said that he bought most of his clothes in department stores.
- He added that
-
-
-
-
-

- 6 The reporter also asked the teenagers about shopping. Report what she asked them.

- How often do you go shopping?
- Do you buy fake products?
- What do you buy at the street markets?
- Where do you get your sneakers?
- Do you own a lot of expensive goods?
- How much money do you spend on clothes?

- She asked the teenagers how often they went shopping.
- She wanted to know if
-
-
-
-

- 7 Report what Jenny answered.

"I've never bought a fake product. I've just bought some snacks at the market. I get my sneakers in a shop on Sneakers Street. I only have one expensive bag. My mum gave it to me for my birthday. Last week I spent all my pocket money on clothes."

Tip: Remember to put the verb in the past perfect. For example, (have) bought becomes had bought.

- Jenny said that she had never bought
- -
 -
 -
 -
 -

- 8 (WRITING) Read these comments in an online forum. Write an answer in your exercise book. Write about 100 words. (Individuelle Lösung)

INTERNET

RosieLee98
I don't like the idea of buying fake goods at all. The people who make them are stealing from the designers. And these cheap goods are made in factories with really bad working conditions.

34HKBoy
People who buy fake goods can't afford the real brands! I think the famous brands are too expensive. If the prices were lower, people wouldn't buy so many fake products!